In a nut shell...

- A physical interactive experience communicating individualism through the eyes of rave participants.
- Utilising an interactive poster in contrast with representation of the theme in video.

Research

Investigating key parts of the project that would be necessary to convey the message.